Infant School Update

As many of you already know, The Iver Village Infant School have made the decision to stop the Crocodile Walk in the new year. The crocodile walk has been staffed by Infant School staff since it started a few years ago and we have been very grateful for their support as it made it easier for parents with children at both schools. A number of parents have expressed their disappointment about the crocodile walk stopping and we will pass these comments on to the Infant School.

Please remember we do offer wraparound childcare through our Earlybirds and Bluebells clubs. We would encourage parents to book places as early as possible.

Schools Update

Last week, 4 governors from the Infant and Junior Schools met to discuss ways the schools could work together in the future. This working group will meet again in January and will discuss how to keep parents informed of developments through a series of meetings. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to get in touch.
