This Week In School...

Year 3 – have been retelling and writing their own version of the Norse Myth, Thor and his Mighty Hammer, using ambitious words, subordinate clauses and many other language features. In Maths, they have been consolidating their learning and revisiting place value and formal methods of calculation.

Year 4 – have been looking at how to represent tenths and hundredths as decimals in Maths and in English, they are writing a newspaper report based on the stolen apples from Noah Barleywater Runs Away.

Year 5 – have been looking at percentage of amounts in Maths, Year 5 found this challenging but by the end of the week they conquered these challenges. In English, they have started writing a diary entry as a crew member on Odysseus's boat. In Humanities, they have been looking at how the Ancient Greeks have shaped our world today.

Year 6 – have enjoyed reading this half term's book, 'Varmints' by Helen Ward & Marc Craste. They are now working on writing their own diary entries from the perspective of a varmint! The children have also been spending time revising their grammar skills ready for next week's mock SATs.

Coffee Morning

We had a lovely chat this morning with some of our parents about the latest push for better attendance. We are so glad that everyone who attended supported our new harder stance and understood the challenges we face as a school getting pupils in to school. If you would like to discuss attendance with anyone here at the school, please feel free to contact Mr Clifford.

Air Pollution Survey

On Wednesday 21st March, our Eco Council were invited to join in with an air quality survey being carried out, for South Bucks District Council, along Iver High Street. The monitoring team from Ricardo Energy and Environment explained how the equipment worked and answered questions from our pupils. Once the data has been analysed, Cerys Williams (Senior Environmental Protection Officer) at South Bucks District Council will return to IVJS to explain the results to us. Our pupils were commended by Ricardo E&E on the depth of their questioning – well done everyone!
