This Week In School...

Year 3 – have been working hard on telling the time. They are getting good at reading clocks and solving problems! They have also written their own fables to teach people about a moral and have produced some excellent work!

Year 4 – have been researching David Attenborough and have begun writing a factual biography about his incredible life. In Maths, they have been calculating area and perimeter. Year 4 have also started their new topics about living things (and their habitats) and volcanoes.

Year 5 – have investigated angles, learning how to find missing angles and how to use a protractor. In English, they have been finishing off their argument for and against zoos. They have all worked very hard – keep it up!

Year 6 – have continued to work really hard in preparation for their SATs – Keep it up Year 6, nearly there! In English, they have been writing some very informative leaflets about the environment and how we can all help to save the planet.

Hockey Tournament!

Some of our lovely Year 4s took part in a hockey tournament this week at Burnham Grammar School.

They all enjoyed themselves and were perfect representatives of our school!

Thank you to the parent helpers who helped provide transport to make this sporting events possible.

Our library is looking incredible and everyone here is loving it!

Thank you again to the team who made it happen including our amazing friends at Sabio who helped fund the decorating!

Wow Work!

Each week we will showcase some fantastic work focusing on a particular class. This week, the spotlight is on...

Sunflower!

Hungry Red Riding Hood was sent by her mother to give her grandma a basket full of food.

HRRH would eat any thing in her sight, yet she was surprisingly skinny with silky, smooth, soft skin. She had beautiful blonde hair that went down to her shoulders. Even though they called her HRRH, her real name was Lucy, and her attitude was as sarcastic as could ever be. However, when it came to her brother (Natsu) or her friends, she was very sweet. Just like Lucy, Natsu was always eating and had a fiery spirit that made him confident and competitive. His hair was a mix of pink and red with a short black top.

"You two should get going now or you'll be late." Said their mother sighing. So they headed out.

As they both got deeper and deeper into the forest, every thing died around them; the trees, the plants, the animals. The two children both clung on to each other as the silence became screams. Why did they get a feeling this would be the last place they stood?

As the two trembled in fear, someone or something bumped into them. "Lucy, isn't this the wolf who's been causing trouble?" Natsu whispered. "Yes but do not fear, Lucy is here!" Lucy shouted.
